Gospel: “Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household. If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest on him.’” (Lk 10:5-6)

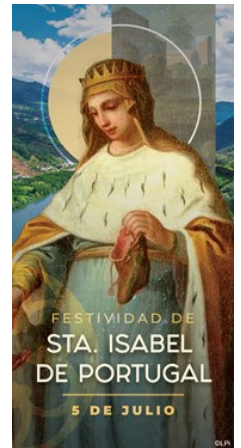

St. Elizabeth of Portugal | July 5

St. Elizabeth was born to Peter III of Aragon and his queen Constantia in 1271. Like most royal girls of the time, she was betrothed at an early age, and was married to King Diniz (or Dinis, English: Denis) at the age of 12. Although her husband’s infidelities and life of sin caused much scandal, Elizabeth was a good and pious queen. She attended Mass daily and dedicated her life to helping the poor. She established orphanages and shelters for the homeless. She also founded a convent of Poor Clares at Coimbra, Portugal.

Often called Peacemaker, Elizabeth was from her birth a reconciler of conflict. Her birth brought her father and his estranged father James to peace. Later when her own son and husband came to war out of jealousy, she rode between armies and reconciled the two men.

After King Diniz died in 1325, she went to live as a lay member at the convent of Poor Clares that she had founded. But her fight for peace was not over, she undertook a long ride to keep the army of her son Afonso IV, from fighting that of Alfonso XI of Castile. Although she was successful, she died shortly after from a fever.

Saint Elizabeth was canonized on May 25th, 1625, by Pope Urban VIII. In the United States her memorial has been transferred to July 5th since July 4th is Independence Day, a national holiday.

DEACON GALLO’S CORNER

HUMILITY

I read a story by Anthony De Mello about a man who lived a godly life; his life even made the angels rejoice. Even though he was a very holy man, he had no notion that he was holy. He simply carried out his daily duties and was unselfconscious about how his smiles made people happy, how his care brought people comfort. He just loved whoever was near him and forgave anybody who may have slighted him. He did not think this was extraordinary in anyway.

One day an angel appeared to him and said to him that God sent her and wanted to grant him any wish. He explained that he didn’t have any wish to be granted by God. The angel tried to convince him, “You could have the gift of healing.”

“No, only God heals,” he said.

Well, how about if God makes you a model of virtue?” suggested the angel.

“Oh, never, that is for saints, and it would make me the center of attention. No never,” said the man.

“You must wish for something. What do you wish for?” persisted the angel.

“I wish only for the grace of God. That is everything to me,” stated the man.

Once again, the angel insisted. Then the man said “OK, I shall ask for this: Let good be done through me without my knowing it.”

So the man was gifted with a shadow that was endowed with the healing gifts. Wherever the man passed he left behind people who were healed, dry land was made fertile, joy returned to the sorrowful. All this happened and the man knew nothing of it because the attention of the people was on the miracles not on the man at all. His wish that good be done through him was fulfilled and he himself was forgotten.

This Is humility.
